And, Because Pain is [NOT] Normal.

Working at Nephew Physical Therapy is being a part of a team. Because we are small, we all play very important roles in the success of the business. The next individual to join our team will be able to directly impact culture and our community.

- We strive to hire rock stars...no turkeys allowed.
- We are on a mission to help people...are you?
- Don't mistake our sweatshirts and yoga pants as being too casual...it's just another tool in our tool belt to be able to move with our patients.
- Our facility is an important part of who we are, our virtual 6th man (for all you basketball fans). We have a space unlike any other in town and was designed to help our team and patients feel right at home.

- Able to take advantage of technology.
- Loves to have their picture taken for social media and other marketing purposes. 😊

- Desires to be a part of growing a clinic.
- Wants to make Nephew Physical Therapy THE best place in Holland for the resolution of pain and physical dysfunction for orthopedic conditions.
- Has a Life.
- Believes that there is life outside of work. That's why we don't work weekends and have Friday afternoons off. We work hard during the week, and often into the evening to accommodate the difficult schedules that others may have with their job/school/life. It's important for us to make time to spend with those important to us, doing the things that we love so we are better able to help those we serve do what they love.

About Our Company:

We are an independent physical therapy clinic that believes in getting to the root of the problem when dealing with physical limitations. We treat people here, with real lives and real problems, with lots of responsibilities and life stresses. It is our job to help them understand how their body was created, how to restore it, and navigate all the "junk" that comes with having a health problem...insurance, following up testing, doctor's appointments and more. Our outpatient team specializes in vertigo, pregnancy and post-partum issues, as well as pain for no good reason which includes neck and low back pain (with/without radicular symptoms)...you gotta love a bulging disc. It is our goal to be the first call people make when their body stops working well.

Our Mission

"We believe in fixing the root of the physical limitation, of the body that God created, thru treatment and education, for those who want to experience life to the fullest."
